Hi Teachers,

Here is an opportunity for seniors for this summer.

The nice thing about internships is that they count as experience after the students graduate from college and are applying for jobs. There are environmental jobs here in Hawai'i, but many of them are filled by people from the mainland, because our kids don't have the experience. I know former students who have gone to the mainland to get the experience.

Aloha everyone! This is the Kokee Resource Conservation Program staff. We are advertising positions for this summer! We want to mahalo you all so much for your kokua in spreading the word. We have received such good responses in the past! Please have them contact us by email or phone (rcp@aloha.net or (808) 335-0045) for information, application process and start date. They need to be over 18 years old, college bound with an interest in environmental science/botany/conservation. It is not required but preferred.

Looking forward to furthering conservation awareness this summer!

A hui hou!
