

From: Barbara Rogers <brogers.hawaii@yahoo.com>
Subject: HaSTA Web Site
Date: March 5, 2009 12:46:47 AM HST
To: Jim Redmond <jredmond@hawaii.edu>

Hi Jim,
Please post the following tour on the web site. Mahalo
Barbara

Cancer Research Center of Hawaii Tour
John A. Burns School of Medicine in Kakaako
Wednesday March 25, 2009
9am -noon

Dear Colleagues,

You are cordially invited to a special tour of the Cancer Research Center of Hawaii on Wednesday March 25th from 9 am- noon. The Center is located in the Biomedical Sciences building at the John A. Burns School of Medicine in Kakaako. Meet on the ocean side of the Biomedical Sciences Building(Ewa end of campus). Participants need to bring an ID to clear security. Parking is available in Lot C at the Ewa end of the Medical School for a fee of $3, which will be reimbursed to participants at the end of the tour. Details of the agenda are given below. Teachers will also learn about research opportunities for students.

Please RSVP via email to brogers.hawaii@yahoo.com by March 18th.

Mahalo and aloha,

Barbara

Co-Chair, Chem Section

CANCER RESEARCH CENTER OF HAWAII TOUR

John A. Burns School of Medicine in Kakaako

Wednesday, March 25, 2009 - Conference Room 222N

Agenda

9:00 a.m. - 9:30 a.m.	Welcome & Overview of Cancer Research Center of Hawai'i – Sharon Shigemasa, Public Information Officer
9:30 a.m. – 10:00 a.m.	Cell Biology of Cancer – Alan Lau, Ph.D., Professor, Natural Products and Cancer Biology Program
10:00 a.m. – 10:30 a.m.	Gene-Environment Interaction as a Cause of Carcinogenesis – Michele Carbone, M.D., Ph.D., Thoracic Oncology Program
10:30 a.m. – 11:00 a.m.	Restroom Break & Visit to Dr. Alan Lau's Lab
11:00 a.m. – 11:30 a.m.	Cancer Risks of Hawai'i's Ethnic Populations – Brenda Hernandez, Ph.D., Hawai'i Tumor Registry

11:30 am – 12:00 pm

Implications of Diet on Cancer: What Does Diet Have to Do with Cancer Anyway? – Suzanne Murphy, Ph.D., Epidemiology