Dear Science Teachers,

On Saturday, October 17, 2009, the University of Hawaii at Manoa will be hosting the Manoa Experience (see attached postcard). At that event, the College of Tropical Agriculture and Human Resources (CTAHR), will be showcasing various projects (see attached flyer) and its nine exciting Bachelor of Science degree programs in:

- Animal Sciences
- Apparel Product Design and Merchandising
- Biological Engineering
- Family Resources
- Food Science and Human Nutrition
- Natural Resources and Environmental Management
- Plant and Environmental Biotechnology
- Plant and Environmental Protection Sciences
- Tropical Plant and Soil Sciences

CTAHR's tent will be located near the gateway to the Manoa campus mall between Miller Hall and the Art Building. The Manoa Experience is open to the public and we encourage you and your students to participate in this event and check-out all the exciting things that we have to offer.

For additional information, please visit the Manoa Experience website at http://manoa.hawaii.edu/admissions/manoa\_experience.html. At that website, your students can register for the Manoa Experience ("RSVP for this event") and sign-up for campus or dormitory tours. Others (teachers and the general public) don't need to register (and even if students don't register, they'll be welcomed to enjoy the Manoa Experience).

We look forward to seeing you at this year's Manoa Experience and please encourage your students to attend and get a taste of their future.

Mahalo.
