Workshops for Professional Developers

FUNDAMENTALS OF INQUIRY

October 25–29, 2010

and

ASSESSING FOR LEARNING

February 7–9, 2011

For more than thirty years, the Institute for Inquiry has served as a professional development center for teachers, administrators, and professional developers interested in exploring the theory and practice of inquiry-based teaching and learning. Our workshops illuminate the power of learning scientific content through inquiry and introduce strategies for providing inquiry experiences in the classroom.
