Hello,

I thought some of you might be interested in a research article recently published on integrating conservation biology into the high school classroom.

Here's a write-up we did reviewing the research article:

<http://www.conservationmaven.com/frontpage/how-to-bring-conservation-biology-into-the-high-school-class.html>

Here's the abstract of the article published in the journal Conservation Biology:

Thanks,
Rob Goldstein
