

From: Jennifer Kuwahara <jhoof@hawaii.edu>
Subject: Fwd: Please post on the HaSTA listserv
Date: April 30, 2010 5:25:05 AM HST
To: hasta-list <hasta-l@lists.hawaii.edu>

From: Diane Sweeney <DSweeney@DolphinQuest.com>
Date: April 29, 2010 9:10:38 PM HST
To: HASTA-L-request@lists.hawaii.edu
Subject: Please post on the HaSTA listserv

Dear Fellow Marine Educators,

The University of California, Santa Cruz has a very cool new Hawaiian monk seal education resource for your students.

The webpage is www.monkseal.ucsc.edu. It provides information about a young seal, Ho'ailona, the ongoing research with her, conservation observations, and it has cool projects in which kids can participate. A new contest will be up by the first week of May. There is also a Facebook page, "Ho'ailona monk seal", for short updates and "conversations" with the seal.

You and your students will enjoy being involved in this engaging story, and you can really help in the important conservation work of this monk seal project. There are opportunities to get involved in the Call for Action through class or school projects all over the United States.

Check it out!

Diane L. Sweeney, Ed. D.
dlsweene@ucsd.edu
dsweeney@dolphinquest.com