AMERICAN CHEMICAL SOCIETY-HAWAII SECTION

August 16, 2010

Greetings to Chemistry at the Mall alumni and potential participants!

Last year the National Chemistry Week event at Windward Mall was a great success and the American Chemical Society (ACS) Hawaii Section is revved to do it again! We are asking for veterans and newcomers to consider volunteering for this great project this year.

National Chemistry Week (NCW) this year is October 17-23. We are returning to Windward Mall, Saturday, October 9, 2010 from 10am to 2pm to host Chemistry at the Mall. The theme this year is "Behind the Scenes with Chemistry!" The mission is to connect chemists with the local community and promote a positive perception of chemistry.

Our aim is to have local businesses, schools and organizations hosting activities at 10 – 15 tables set up in the middle of Windward Mall. The goal is to engage children in exploring everyday chemistry - preferably in a hands-on manner to maximize the fun! We are inviting you and your group to take part in celebrating chemistry by having a table beside us. A student poster contest will also be taking place during the day.

If you cannot contribute your time this year but would still like to be a part of the outreach, we are also accepting monetary donations. The funds established will go solely to this event – as supplies for the activities, publicity, and nourishing our hard-working volunteers during the day! We also greatly appreciate any suggestions of other potential participants that you think can contribute to making the day a success.

Please consider this opportunity and RSVP to Alison Omura at omura\_ali@msn.com by September 3, 2010. Your support in any form is appreciated.

If you are interested in more information, please contact the undersigned or Namthip Sitachitta namthip@hawaii.edu.

Thank you for your consideration,
